VOL. XXXIII.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, JANUARY 26, 1906.

NO. 98.

HUBBLE.

George Kelley and wife, of Marksbury, visited relatives here Sunday. Silas Messer sold his tobacco crop to Lancaster parties at 6c. M. B. Eubanks and L. G. Hubble sold their crop of hemp in Stanford at $4.75. Hurrah for Stanford.

Mrs. Thos. Barker is quite sick. Joe Ross and wife will leave soon for Illinois to make their future home. Thos. Wilder and wife are rejoicing over the arrival of a son.

Mr. Van Keeton and Miss Isabel Yeakey drove to Lancaster and were married. M. B. Eubanks has returned from the South. Miss Desha Stigall, of Perryville, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. S. McKittick. Miss Flonnie Hammond is visiting in Lexington. Mrs. A. J. Rice, of Lexington, has been with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Carman, for a few days.

Last Friday morning the community was shocked by the death of Mrs. B. W. Givens, who was seized with pneumonia only a few days before. The funeral services were held at the Christian church here, after which a large procession of friends followed the remains to Buffalo cemetery. It needs no golden light of the immortality into which Mrs. Givens has passed to say of her that she was of the brightest and purest type of womanhood. She was a consistent member of the Christian church and only two weeks ago occupied her accustomed place there. Our deepest sympathy goes out to the broken home circle in which she was so much needed and for which years of thoughtfulness had fitted her to be the chief inspiration. Each returning day emphasizes the uncertainty of life and yet we can not be reconciled to the passing of a mother, even to enrich heaven.

Small Beginnings.

Jay Gould was a book agent. Henry Villard was a reporter. Elihu Burritt was a blacksmith. Benjamin Franklin was a printer. Abraham Lincoln was a rail-splitter. James J. Hill began as a roustabout. A. T. Stewart was a school teacher. Daniel Drew began as a cattle trader. Cornelius Vanderbilt ferried his own boat.

Andrew Carnegie began life at $2.50 a week.

John Wanamaker began life at $1.25 a week.

John Jacob Astor sold apples in the streets.

Thomas Edison began as a telegraph operator.

William Lloyd Garrison was a printer's devil.

William A. Clark as a young man was a miner.

John D. Rockefeller worked in a machine shop.

Thomas F. Ryan was a clerk in a dry goods store.

Contracted Chronic Diarrhoea While in the Philippines.

"While with the U. S. Army in the Philippines, I contracted chronic diarrhoea. I suffered severely from this terrible disease for over three years and tried the prescriptions of numerous physicians but found nothing that did me any good until I tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, two small bottles of which entirely cured me and I have since had no return of the disease."—Herman Stein, 212 N. Union Ave., Pueblo, Colorado. For sale by all druggists.

A creature who is afraid to print his name, seeks in a card in that organ of assassination, the Louisville Herald, to defame the memory of Gov. Goebel and insult the Hon. Jesse M. Alvenson, because the latter proposed that a statue of Goebel be placed along with one of Henry Clay in the Hall of Fame. Such men as the writer would stab a man in the back and in the dark and is a fit apostle for assassins and assassination, and the paper that would publish such rot is as much deserving of contempt as the irresponsible scribbler.—Frankfort Journal. Well said, and to it we add our amen and amen.

A Bargain.

If you wish to buy a bargain, all you have to do is get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's (laxative) Syrup Pepsin, and use it at the least sign of headache, dizziness, constipation, biliousness, indigestion, etc. This small investment will be the best bargain you ever bought, for it will bring you health at a nominal cost. Try it. Sold by G. L. Penny, Stanford, and C. W. Adams, Hustonville, at 50c and $1. Money back if it fails.

Abraham Lincoln Denny's resolution providing for the due observance of Abe Lincoln's birthday, the 12th of February, has passed both the House and Senate and a suitable program will be arranged for the occasion.

A span of Hardin county mules sold for $435.

STANFORD GRADED SCHOOL.

Two of the greatest educational agencies in this country are the school and the press. When these work in harmony they become potent factors for good. In our community we have the good fortune to see this co-operation. Through the kindness of Mr. Walton, beginning with this issue of the INTERIOR we will publish a composition from the school every two weeks. This is done for three reasons. We think it will stimulate the pupils to better work. It will also give to the patrons and taxpayers an idea of the kind of work that is being done. In addition to this it will furnish the "gentle reader" with some good reading. As a representative of the school interests of this district we desire to express our gratitude to the I. J. for this most esteemed favor. The following is a composition from the High School written on two days' notification.

CHARITY.

"Faith, hope and charity, these three, but the greatest of these is charity. Charity suffereth long and is kind; charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not itself; is not puffed up." Charity is the golden chain that links earth with heaven. It is the foundation of all christian graces and without it our religion is like a body without a soul; our friendships, shadows of a shadow; our humanity, a mere iceberg on the ocean of time. Without this virtue we are unfit to carry on any great life-work and mock the design of our creator. The quality of charity, like that of mercy, droppeth like the gentle rain from heaven and falls gently on the drooping flowers in the stillness of night. Its refreshing and reviving effects are felt, seen and admired. It flows from a good heart and pure. It looks beyond the pale of this life for approval and reward. Like mercy too, it is twice blest. No parade, no need of praise, no clarion note is needed to sound the charities of the truly good, no press to publish their acts. The fact that we have no great fortunes to found orphan's homes and hospitals, or tainted millions to endow colleges is no excuse for sitting idly by and saying "there is nothing I can do." We can help the unfortunate and needy in many ways that do not require fortunes. A kind word, a helping hand, a sympathetic smile, or perhaps a little self-denial will brighten a life covered by shadows, and add a bright gem in our own promised crown. There is some degree of virtue in every thing on earth and it is found by all who diligently seek it. Charity is universal. The brotherhood of man is not circumscribed. Culture has kindled the emblems of this brotherhood into a quenchless flame and in its sweet warmth heaven plays about every heart, radiating every pathway and illuminating every home. It is as free and brilliant as the noonday sun and bubbles in the heart like a never failing spring upon the mountain side. From the hill tops the birds mingle their music with the soft throbbings of the human heart.

The melodies of angelic choristers, and the harmonious strains of charity fill the valleys and thrill the arches of the universe. On flowers and crystal streams; in morning's daybreak; in evening's twilight; twinkling in the sweet light of the stars and in the gentle laughter of the moon; finally on all nature, animate or inanimate, is the gentle reflection of the joys, the smiles, the divinity of charity or love.

Charity is the light and the majesty of life. Take it away and what becomes of the world? It is a barren wilderness. Its darts are silver; when they turn to fire in the noble heart they impart a portion of that heavenly flame which is their element. Charity is of such a refining, elevating character that it expels all that is selfish and degrading. It bids us think great thoughts, do great deeds and changes our common clay into fine gold. It illuminates our path, dark and mysterious though it be, with torch lights lit from the one great light. How poor and weak and inexpressive are words when sought to strew, as with stars, the path of the expression of charity's greatness and power.

The blue-eyed turquoises, or the liquid light of the sapphire should alone be tasked to express our thoughts of charitable love. The love that makes memory happy and home beautiful, is that which forms the sunlight of our earliest consciousness, beaming gratefully along the path of maturity and radiating its margin forever.

The couple have been lovers since they attended school together at Hustonville, where Rev. Pinkerton was their teacher. Penny, Stanford, and C. W. Adams, Hustonville, at 50c and $1. Money back if it fails.

Mr. Roosevelt is said to be growing impatient at the delay of the Senate in confirming his appointment of Ben Daniels to be United States Marshal of Arizona. Mr. Daniels, it is true, has served a term in the penitentiary for mule stealing and has killed two men, but as his record as a Rough Rider was excellent, Mr. Roosevelt naturally feels that the Senate is not justified in quibbling over trifles.—Louisville Times.

The Interior Journal.

E. C. WALTON.

THE Senate passed the bill appropriating $12,500 for restoring the Clay monument, a sum amply sufficient, it is stated, to put in place either a bronze or a granite statue. The House ought to follow suit as soon as possible and Governor Beckham will doubtless sign the bill at once. It ought to have an emergency clause to it so that the work could begin at once and relieve the cemetery of an eye-sore and the people of cause for shame that the matter has so long been neglected.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER has given the University of Chicago $1,450,000 more, making many millions he has donated to that great institution of learning. Of this sum $1,000,000 is for the permanent endowment, $350,000 to cover the current expenditures or deficit of the departments of the university up to July 1, 1907, and the remaining $100,000 of the gift is to provide a fund, the interest of which is to go to the widow of President Harper during her lifetime.

THE growth of the automobile industry is strikingly shown by the fact that in 11 months of last year $2,500,000 worth of machines were exported. Of these England took $631,787 worth, France $262,058 worth and the rest of Europe took just over half a million dollars' worth. The fad seems destined to last longer than the bicycle.

THE midwinter meeting of the Kentucky Press Association proved a most pleasant and profitable one. Some 50 or more newspaper men were present and a good deal of important business was transacted. The people of the capital city entertained them royally.

It is not necessarily true that Editor Pickles, of the Richmond Register, is sour. His lady friends say he is sweet Pickles.—Frankfort Journal. His friends haven't seen him since Dick Miller's defeat for speaker or they would be singing another tune.

THE unwritten law doesn't go at Gainesville, Ga. A husband who laid in wait and killed the destroyer of his home has been found guilty of murder. He would have been acquitted and given a chrono in Kentucky.

A FRANKFORT paper says that each member of the press gang was given a bottle of whisky by W. A. Gaines & Co. Its a good thing the meeting lasted only a day or there might have been some fatalities.

A LAW-MAKER has introduced a bill to require executions in this State to be with electricity, but most of us will agree that hanging is good enough for the average criminal that gets a death sentence.

APPROXIMATELY $40,000,000 has been asked for in public building bills at this session of Congress. Nearly every Representative in the House has asked for a building, and some for three or four.

POLITICAL.

Clarence Greer has been appointed postmaster at Viva, Laurel county.

A sensation was furnished the Frankfort lobbyists when Representative Miller, of Madison county, introduced a bill fixing limits beyond which they shall not go.

The Missouri Supreme Court upheld the constitutionality of the usury law which makes it a misdemeanor to charge interest at a rate greater than two per cent. a month.

Mr. Spooner delivered a speech of three hours' duration in the Senate defending the course of President Roosevelt in the San Domingo matter and the Algeiras conference.

Kentucky Internal Revenue Collectors are said to oppose the proposition that all Deputy Collectors be put under the civil service, as such action would tend to break the State machine, composed of officeholders.

Gov. Beckham's recommendation to the Legislature to provide for a special term of the Circuit Court while the regular session is being held elsewhere, was endorsed by Bell-county lawyers' bar meeting held at Pineville.

Expressing himself in favor of a uniform divorce law, Gov. Beckham asked the House and Senate to name a delegate to the Divorce Law Congress to be held in Washington. As one delegate the Executive named the Hon. John D. Carroll, of Henry county.

Included in the routine business of the Senate Wednesday was an exchange of committee places by Messrs. Blackburn and Mallory, the former going from the Committee on Naval Affairs to the Committee on the District of Columbia and the latter from the District Committee to the Naval Committee.

As a result of the production at Frankfort of the "The Clansman," Representative William F. Blair, of Lexington, introduced in the General Assembly a bill prohibiting the production of "Any play that is based upon antagonism alleged formerly to exist between master and slave or that excites race prejudices."

Unknown persons threw a dynamite bomb against the house of John Cook, in Somerset. Several members of Cook's family were in the house, but none of them were injured. The porch was almost destroyed and the glass in the windows shattered.

The Hart Bros., Will and Lee, of Lexington, are the men to interest in the management of the forthcoming new hotel. The location is easily determined. The money is ready and the time is ripe to push the enterprise by the business people of the city, who recognize the advantages to be derived from ample and attractive hotel accommodations in a growing little city.—Somerset Journal.

It is with deep sorrow that the Herald this morning chronicles the death of Major Edward Rosser, one of our city's foremost citizens. At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon he passed into the hereafter as gently as a child falling asleep. He was one of the most prominent and widely known men in the county, and his death will cause universal sorrow. Maj. Rosser is survived by a wife and two children.—Harrodsburg Herald.

CHURCH MATTERS.

The Soul Winners' Society, of which Dr. E. O. Guerrant, formerly of Louisville, is president, employed 21 workers at a cost of $1,980 last year in the Tennessee mountains.

The interesting revival at the Vernon avenue church is making good progress, having several conversions, and the meeting will continue throughout the week, afternoon and evening, of each day. There were 15 converts immersed at the First Baptist church Sunday night, resulting from the revival at the Southend church. The congregation of the First Baptist church have plans for an enlargement of their building which if carried out will make this the largest and most attractive church building in the city, covering the entire frontage of the lot.—Somerset Journal.

At the Fourth Street church on January 6 was held a service similar to that witnessed in many other churches, about to enter upon the new year's work, but which was in some measure an innovation in this congregation.

After a sermon retrospective and prospective in its view, a summarized report of the past year's work was read, which showed the aggregate of receipts from all departments of the church to have been, in 1905, over $4,600. Contributed to missions, $450, exclusive of more than $150 given by individuals to some mission churches and $75 given to benevolences; additions, 63; loss by death, one; sermons preached 86; other addresses, four; funerals, six; weddings, 26; calls, 385.

While, strictly speaking, not a part of this report, yet because we rejoice in her magnanimity, we mention Sister Kennedy's gift, in 1905, of $500 to Kentucky University, which is the first of four equal payments which she has pledged to that institution. After the report there was a roll call of the membership. Altogether the service produced a deeper interest, inspired us with hope for the future and fostered courage and determination to accomplish in the present year more acceptable things, for him who has blessed us abundantly in the past. J. W. Hagin.—Christian Century.

No. 71, 150,000 acres of cotton land in Mississippi
Delta, which is now being sold by the Mississippi
Delta Land Company, which is becoming more valu-from the North (where the supply of timber is fast diminishing, are constantly increasing their purchases of timber lands in the South. When the tim-acre or will grow any other kind of crop raised in gives a yield which cannot be excelled; taxes are low, the title is perfect and the man who buys Delta farm vestment that he will never regret. This land is di-
